The prohibition people of our neighboring town of Macon had a rousing St. John ratification meeting on Thursday evening. A mammoth cold-water flag was unfurled, and able addresses delivered by Rev. James Haney, A. F. Smith and others. Mr. Wm. Hight presided and the tabernacle was crowded.

A Decatur debating society will at an early day discuss the question: "Resolved, That cold water is a more effective nose paint than rum." The question has its origin in the fact that quite a number of citizens of prohibition predilections, professions and sentiments, have their countenances lighted up of late by proboscis of rubricated hns. They attribute the florid complexion of their noses to the effect of the sun's rays while out fishing, but there is a vague suspicion lurking in the minds of some of the cynics that the "bait" they use has something to do with it. Whether it results from indolence in the Arthur brand of "Shrimp salad," or exposure to the sun, or to frequent and heavy indulgence in aqua pura will be sifted to the bottom by the society. Ex-Alderman Schroll is to be one of the judges.

The guards will attend the funeral of Will Stevenson in a body.

The Veteran, a monthly paper recently started at Springfield, has died a natural death and has been buried in the newspaper graveyard of that city. It was a sheet devoted to the interests of soldiers.

The natives of Springfield were considerably alarmed on Thursday, by the report that an unmistakable case of cholera existed in that city. The report was false and originated from the arrival of a man from Paris.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sumner, died at their residence on South Webster street, yesterday, after a few days illness of summer complaint. The funeral will take place this afternoon at four o'clock, from the German Catholic church.

The following teachers in the public schools at Blue Mound and vicinity will be in attendance at the Teachers Institute in this city next week. Misses Sarah Pratt, Mollie Lundy, Cora Armstrong, Mamie Gay, Minnie Clements and Effie Gibson, of Jamestown, Indiana, and Messrs C. M. Parker, J. K. Lundy, J. B. Kerr and J. G. Northcutt.

The prohibition people of this city and vicinity will hold a meeting at the tabernacle this evening for the purpose of ratifying the nominations of St. John and Daniels J. C. Hobbs, the candidate of the prohibition party for governor, and other prominent speakers are expected to be present and address the meeting. The G. A. R. band will be present and furnish music.

The Odd Fellows picnic at Niantic next Wednesday promises to be one of the largest and most interesting assemblages of its character ever held in Central Illinois. Extensive preparations have been made, able speakers secured, and the attendance of a large number of neighboring lodges secured. Two lodges and the encampment "on this city will attend, headed by Goodman's celebrated band.

The Macon county teachers institute will be held at the high school building in this city, next week, commencing Monday. It will be conducted by County Superintendent Trainer, assisted by Prof. E. A. Gastman, Prof. J. N. Wilkenson, Miss Bear and Miss Fulton. Every indication points to its being one of the most successful meetings of the kind ever held in this county. The attendance will be large and the deepest interest it will be manifested in its proceedings.

The colored people of the Mt. Pleasant Baptist church, of Bloomington, have been invited to this city yesterday. There were about one hundred persons in the party, which arrived here at 10-10 on the Central. They were joined by a number of our colored people, and the entire party spent the day at Imboden's springs. In the evening a sociable was given at the tabernacle and a dance in the hall over Keefe & Kraft's. The visitors had a pleasant time, and returned home this morning on the early Central train.

Will Clark, who has for many years been an engineer on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railway, has removed to this city and will soon take a similar position on the Wabash. He is a brother of Pat Clark, and is at present stopping with him. Will brought a curious trunk with him, which was filled with articles that all engineers love to possess. It was broken open and relieved of its contents, and all the boys got something but Billy Anderson. Bloom says he was "behind time," and consequently got left. Mr. Clark will soon remove his family here.

On Wednesday as Henry Jump was digging a vault in the rear of his barber shop, about 18 inches under the ground he came across a skeleton of a man about six feet long, who had been buried in a box. The box was nailed together with large spikes. The position of the skeleton was with the face to the south and the head of the body down to the breastbone. The arms were extended downwards, with the hands together. Some claim that a laborer on the I. C. railroad, was being buried through here about 25 years ago, and was buried in that locality. This, however, is disputed by others. —Mirror News.

He Was Not Robbed.

A few days ago mention was made of an old gentleman named Jacob Garver, being robbed by "hugs" at Wa.ensburg, but it turns out to be a mistake. Mr. Garver is over eighty years of age and very feeble. When the P. D. & E. train on which he was traveling, was at or near Wabash, the old gentleman arose on his seat and went out on the rear platform of the coach. A traveling man who had noticed him for some time, saw him, and following him up, induced him to return to his seat. Mr. Garver wrongly conceived the idea that some one was trying to rob him, and taking his wallet which contained over seventy dollars, he hid it under the seat. After the train left Warrensburg, Conductor Rhodes, who was in charge, missed his aged passenger and arriving at the next station, telephoned the Warrensburg authorities to institute a search for him. The train had there about half past nine and Mr. Garver was not found until the next morning. He had wandered into a corn field and in some way received several serious bruises. On the following day he came to this city and went to Cerro Gordo to visit relatives, having an indistinct idea of what had transpired the previous night. The car he hid the money in made several trips over the road, but on Wednesday the wallet was found at Mattoon, and returned to its owner. An impression got abroad that a robbery had been committed on the P. D. & E. train, which is entirely erroneous.

Mrs. Smiley has been able to be about the house for some time, but yesterday was the first time she has been able to venture out for many months.

Messrs. Charles and Amos Conklin have gone on a tour of observation and recreation in the great Northwest, to be gone several weeks. Their objective point is Washington Territory, but they will "do" the country pretty well in their travels, and inform themselves thoroughly as to the resources and advantages it presents to the capitalist as well as the emigrant.

F. L. Cook, county superintendent of Olmstead county, Wis., returned home yesterday, after spending a week or ten days, in this and neighboring counties. Mr. Cook came here for the purpose of attending the convention of the superintendents of this county, which is anticipated by many neighboring counties. He was highly pleased with it, and will most likely introduce it in his county.

ANOTHER FATAL ACCIDENT.

G. P. Honnell Struck and Killed by An Illinois Central Passenger Train.

Another fatal railroad accident occurred last evening, about six o'clock, a short distance south of the Illinois Central bridge. The victim being G. P. Honnell, a man sixty-seven years old who resides on south Cemetery street. He was returning to the city from his farm, by his accustomed way up the Central track. The south bound fast express came bowling along, and notwithstanding the fact that the victim was walking towards it, he was struck and so seriously injured as to die a few moments later. The train was in charge of Conductor Rhodes, the engineer being Wm. Egger. He discovered Mr. Honnell on the track and sounded the whistle but the deceased was very deaf and evidently did not hear it. As soon as the train could be stopped he was taken on board and the train backed up to the depot. On the way back Mr. Honnell told his name, but before the depot was reached, he had expired. There was a small hole over his left eye, his left elbow was badly mangled, and the left leg broken in several places, but beyond this the body was not mangled. Coroner Bendure was notified and took charge of the remains which were removed to Bullard's undertaking establishment and prepared for interment. Coroner Bendure empaneled the following jury, who viewed the body before it was removed to the late home of the deceased and then adjourned until this morning at 8 o'clock. E. W. Anderson, B. N. Adams, J. C. Wise, W. H. Lane, Geo. Ruckle and W. C. Bullard.

The deceased was the father of Mrs. M. McKinnzie of this city, at whose home he resided and of Miss Ella Honnell of Camp Point, and is the grand father of Mrs. Will Fearn and Mrs. Al Leech. A few years ago in the vicinity of the Central bridge he was struck by an engine and carried some distance on the pilot, but he recovered from his injuries and since enjoyed good health. It is thought that when the accident happened last evening he was looking down the track to see if any train was in sight, and that he had not had time to look up before he was struck. This makes the third fatal railroad accident that has happened in this city in the course of three weeks.

Charged With Attempted Rape.

Yesterday afternoon about three o'clock Coroner Bendure and Harvey Plotner, while working in the cemetery, had their attention called to the Potter's field by the action of a colored man and woman who had come to this city on the Bloomington excursion. They hastened to the spot but the man saw them coming, and leaping over a hedge, made off as fast as his legs could carry him. The woman was found in an embarrassing condition, and she immediately pronounced that the man had attempted to rape her. She gave her name as Laura Ward, and said that she had been induced to come to the spot under a pretext that there was a place to fish seen by. The name of the alleged rapist was Pleasant Barton, and upon hearing her story, a telephone message was sent to the depot police to detain him should he attempt to leave on any train. Barton was captured along towards evening by Harvey Plotner, who followed him northward to the vicinity of the poor farm. He is of medium height and is not very dark skinned. Last evening the woman appeared before Squire Corley and swore out a state warrant charging Barton with attempted rape. He disappeared before the Squire, but was sentenced to jail to await a preliminary hearing which will be had this morning.

Par- at Warrensburg.

A party of thirty young people from this city went to Warrensburg yesterday afternoon on the P. D. & E. train, to attend a party at the handsome residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Boughn. A number of Warrensburg people were present to enjoy the occasion. Those present on this were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Swearingen, and Messrs. Maggie T. Orrin, Maggie, Muzzy, Lillie Smith, Mollie Lantz, Ella Strader, Sadie Taylor, Mrs. L. Longbaum, Mina Thompson, Bell Skeels, Mollie Beall, Lou Latham, Lou Martin, Mattie Williams, Bessie Dillon, Flora Lutzinger, Lou Tanner and Messrs. John Spence, E. Strider, Elmer Grove, James Boyd, Lem Spence, John and Samuel Diller, Jacob Williams, Will Werner, Charles Lantz, Tom Honnell, E. B. Krone, Rob. Bivens. At half past seven o'clock a sumptuous supper was served, which bespoke volleys for the culinary skill of the lady who managed it. The time was pleasantly spent in perogues and other amusements, and when the Decatur party boarded the train at half past nine to return home, they did so with a feeling that Mr. and Mrs. Boughn had entertained them in royal style. They arrived home at 10 o'clock perfectly delighted with the time they had enjoyed. Miss Lou Tanner, ranged the party several days ago.

The Confidence Men.

The case of the People vs. Ed. Rodgers and J. D. Spry, is, charged with being confidence men, was concluded before Squire Lowry yesterday. The jury, which was composed of Messrs. Thomas McCercher, J. W. Jones, John A. Brockway, J. D. Hallock, James Witteggott and M. L. Elliott, found Rodgers guilty of the charge and acquitted Spry. Rodgers was fined twenty dollars and costs, but at the time was unable to pay. If he do not raise the money in a few days, he will have to go to the chain gang.
